Fall

REGISTRATION 2009-2010

My greatest joy as a professional artist lies in recognizing the special gifting of my students and drawing talent out of them. j'Originals' is all about developing latent potential in each student in the most individual manner possible. Taught the skills of timeless, classical Old Masters in Germany in techniques that approximate those used by the masters, I pass them on. This increases my art students' promise.

Whether art is just appreciation and fun or a building of competitive skills, j'Originals' adapts to your goals. Together we set the pace. We may start with cartoons, popular figures or classical still life, but I stretch horizons, and entice with new subjects. Modeling, 3-dimensionality, color mixing, foundational must-haves of the realistic artist, are thoroughly taught at j'Originals'. We use creative techniques. I teach the art elements—line, form, color, rhythm--and composition if you prefer to specialize in original ideas or abstract work. Upon registering, you will receive a supply list for your chosen media. Using excellent art materials is key to a student's success.

You've waited for the right moment to begin your art journey in a safe place...now classes are renewing at j'Originals' Art Studio. Let me teach you freehand techniques: use pencils, pens, pastels, markers, colored pencils, charcoals. Paint oils, watercolors, acrylics. We progress one finished work at a time. Each finished work springboards your art higher, and before you know it, you're at a whole new level.

Sessions begin 1st Thursday in September, the 3rd; Wednesday, September 9 after Labor Day, adults
Joanna McKethan, WSNC, SW, Signature Member Southern Watercolor Society, Watercolor Society of North Carolina and Member Portrait Society of America
