Painting a Face in Oil

Transform a Photograph into a Portrait

Fri.-Sat., May 21st-22nd, 9:30a.m.-4:30p.m.

Price: $210

Use a photograph and still give your face three-dimensionality and the breath of life. Learn how to mix good flesh colors in both light and dark range, how to model and shade in color, what mediums to use, with the help of portraitist Joanna McKethan, trained in the Old Masters traditions under a German master in oils from Munich, trained and influenced by Thomas Buechner, editor of the definitive Norman Rockwell biography. Learn the photographic lies to avoid and hone your skills with classical, state-of-the-art techniques in oil painting. Whether beginning, intermediate or advanced, Ms. McKethan can help you enhance your palette, painting, and repertoire. Standing easels are available, as well as table surfaces in this two-day Friday – Saturday course held at spaciouly renovated Art on Broad Atelier, 217 East Broad, in downtown Dunn. Ten-percent discount from Simply Divine Bed & Breakfast when you mention my course. Lunch at nearby gourmet Broad Street Deli or place of your choice increases the day’s pleasure. If interested only in one-day, inquire by email or telephone.

$105 registration required by May 14th.
